PTE. A. B. LOBB DIES.
Pte. Alexander B. Lobb, who received gunshot wounds on Nov. 22nd, died on December 1st. He was a stretcher bearer and before enlisting was a postman. He was 22 years of age, and has a brother, Mr. T. W. Lobb, who lives at 139 Garden avenue. A sister, Mrs. Nicholls, lives at 25 Wright avenue, and his mother resides on Maple Grove avenue. He was born in Toronto and went to Fern Avenue School. He was a member of two or three branches of the Orange order in the city, and belonged to the Royal Grenadiers before the outbreak of war.

PTE. W. T. HOWARD.
Pte. Walter Thompson Howard is reported to have died in France. The only intimation that he was unwell was a cable received by the family stating that he was dangerously ill. This was followed by the official notice stating that he had succumbed to his illness. He was 24 years old, born in Toronto, and was educated at Parkdale Collegiate. He was employed at the Post-Office before enlisting. He is a son of Mr. Walter Howard, 52 Harvard avenue, and has three other brothers serving, Pte. Roy Howard in hospital in England, and Pte. Albert Howard, and Gunner Percy Howard. Pte. Howard won a medal for his shooting at the Armouries when a school cadet of about 13 years old. He left Canada in December, 1916, and has been on the anti-aircraft guns.

Pte. A. R. Tinsley
Pte. A. R. Tinsley, 138th Batt. (known to all his friends as Reg.) was killed at Vimy Ridge. He formerly worked in the post office, general delivery. His father and two sisters live in Nottingham, England. Two brothers are with the colors, one in France, the other at Salonika, and was at Gallipoli. Arch. Tinsley, the elder brother, enlisted the same time as Reg. Tinsley. He is deeply missed in the post office, as he was an active member of the Post-Office Clerks' association.

PTE. A. KENNEDY MISSING.
Pte. A. Kennedy of 658 (Hindostani) battalion is reported missing on April 9, and his wife and little baby boy, Willie, are wondering what has become of him. Mrs. Kennedy is hopeful that her husband will come home again. He left with an infantry battalion Pte. A. Kennedy.

PTE. J. KANE REPORTED DEAD.
No word has come to three brothers and a sister at 123 Danforth avenue, that their soldier brother, Pte. J. Kane, had been wounded several days ago and had just died from his wounds. While The Star was at their address last night conveying the sad news, a newsman entered the room and said:

INTRODUCTION

In the Summer of 2009 workmen conducting renovations in the Retail Lobby of the Vancouver Mail Processing Plant in Downtown Vancouver located a Memorial Plaque honouring Vancouver Post Office employees who were lost in World Wars I and II. The plaque was originally cast following WW I to honour eleven individuals then recast following WW II to honour three more. It was moved from its original location at the Vancouver Post Office, located at the time in what is now the Sinclair Centre on the North West corner of Granville and Hastings Streets, to the Main Lobby of the new building in 1958. Subsequent renovations to the Retail Lobby removed the Plaque from public view. In November 2010 the Van-Fraser Heritage Club hosted a ceremony, attended by representatives of the Canadian Armed Forces, to rededicate the Plaque and place it back in a prominent position in the newly renovated Retail Lobby.

As part of the Rededication Ceremony the Van-Fraser Heritage Club researched each of the names on the Plaque and prepared a history for each. This research led to the discovery of seven other Canada Post employees in British Columbia who were lost in World War I and 165 employees who served and safely returned.

As the 100th Anniversary of the start of World War I is approaching Van-Fraser undertook research to locate as many Canada Post employees as possible who served in World War I. Our research included review of the data bases maintained by the Department of Veterans Affairs, web sites displaying City Directories of the time, as well as records maintained by local Archives. Also included in this compilation are some Postmasters from Revenue Offices and Rural Route service providers even though they were not employees. This research has resulted in the location of 1312 Canada Post employees who served in World War I and 132 who were lost.

Unfortunately this list cannot be considered as complete. Some records of the day are missing vital information and some are simply missing. Some individuals did not list their "profession or calling" as Post Office employees but rather as "Public Service", "Civil Service", or "Public Employee". Where available, City Directory Information was cross-referenced with Veterans Affairs Records and some of the discrepancies were resolved. Some listed the profession prior to joining Canada Post. Some individuals from the United Kingdom returned and enlisted in the British Forces. The National Archives in the United Kingdom notes sixty percent of World War I records were "burnt" during bombing raids in 1940.

Van-Fraser was able to make contact with some of the families of employees who served in World War I and has obtained copies of photographs and documents. Included in these contacts are the families of Matthew Henry Harlock and Thomas Charles Morris-White, both listed on the Memorial Plaque. Van-Fraser will continue its efforts to find more Canada Post Employees who served in World War I and contact families in British Columbia and endeavor to add to our collection of photographs and documents. We encourage other Canada Post Heritage Clubs to join us in this endeavour and remember all of those from Canada Post who served their country.

TWO YEARS OF WAR: A VIEW FROM OTTAWA

In 1916 the Government of Canada issued a publication, Two Years of War: A View From Ottawa, that outlined the participation Public Service Employees during the first two years of World War I. It provided a listing of Public Service employees who served in the military, worked with various groups and agencies supporting the War Effort, and engaged in refugee relief programs. There is also an article on the Women's Branch, a group of female employees formed to provide input on issues relating to the Public Service and support the War Effort.

The listing of Canada Post employees included a number of names that could not be confirmed as serving in the Armed Forces. They may have served only in Canada, may have joined the Post Office Department after completing their military service (their documentation would show their previous occupation), their records may not have been entered in the Veterans Affairs Website or may have enlisted in the Armed Forces of another nation such as the British Army.

THE WOMEN'S BRANCH

In January 1914 The Women's Branch, an Association of female Public Service employees, primarily in the Ottawa area came together largely through the efforts of Miss M. Tremblay of the Department of the Interior and several other enthusiastic supporters. The two primary goals were to promote an esprit de corps amongst its members and present the views of women pertaining to their role in the Public Service. The first executive of the organization included as President, Mary D. Doyle of the Post Office Department.

The Women's Branch primarily pursued these two goals until the outbreak of World War I in September 1914 when it directed its efforts to support the War Effort. Post Office Department employees made several significant contributions. Mary Doyle organized three committees; The Red Cross Committee; The City Relief Committee; a committee to organize the collection and distribution of an Emergency Fund. There was also a group of 89 Post Office female employees who prepared and mailed letters to returning injured soldiers offering them forms of assistance they may require.

The Women's Branch also organized Women's Voluntary Aid Detachment, consisting of 32 members, trained by the St. John's Ambulance Corps. These individuals volunteered a week or more to assist the Fleming Convalescent Home assisting with the treatment and rehabilitation of returned Wounded Soldiers. In 1916 a request came from England for personnel trained for this type of work. A number of members of the group volunteered to serve in England including the following Post Office employees.
